PARENT INVOLVEMENT

Your involvement is critical to the success of the competition team. In addition to all the things you do to enable your child to participate on the team, the team needs your help. We need parents to help with team tryouts (timing and recording of finish results), transportation of equipment (can buoys and Bennett Comp Paddle Boards), assistance at competitions and also for some fund raising to help make sure our team has the right equipment to compete at peak performance.

Please go to the Parent Volunteer link below and sign up to do your part to help with the team organization. All help will be greatly appreciated.

PARENT COMMITTEE

New in 2012 was the formation of the Jr Lfgd Comp Team Parent Committee to help relieve the coaches of the administrative burden that comes with running a team. This allows the coaches to concentrate on skill development during training sessions. The Parent Committee will work behind the scenes to support the team's infrastructure. For example, ordering team uniforms, maintaining the database of team members, communications, organizing volunteers, fundraising, etc. Please let someone on the parent committee know if you are interested in helping the committee.

The 2013 Parent Committee members are:

A word on Sponsorships

The Jones Beach Junior Lifeguard Competition Team would like to offer families, or combinations of families, the ability to sponsor a Bennett Competition Board and Bennett Transport Bag for the team. They may also design their own logo to be screened on the boards and bags. All parents are also asked to solicit local/national company sponsors. This will enable the team to utilize the Bennett Boards for some time in competitions and allow the team to possess boards for both training and actual Competitions only.

JUNIOR LIFE

200 compete in skills match at Jones Beach

About 200 junior lifeguards paddled, ran and, of course, swam yesterday in a sand and surfside tournament at Jones Beach that tested the skills they've learned as Long Island lifesavers.

Despite what was at stake — a chance to go on to regional and national competitions and bragging rights — a wave of esprit de corps flowed from contestant to contestant, organizers said.

"They're just ecstatic," said Jay Liegey, a lifeguard at Field Beach and an organizer of the Lifeguard Competition. The annual extravaganza has in its history become a rite of summer for lifeguards. "When you're an a lifeguard, you like to compete. You're showing your prowess and how good you are."

The contestants, aged 9 to 17, are from 10 to five Island-based junior lifeguard programs. They are based at S

The tournament included a paddleboard competition.
